Andrew Jackson is Manager of CBRE Hotels for Queensland, responsible for servicing the Queensland hotel & leisure brokerage services business.

Andrew is responsible for the acquisition and disposal of freehold and leasehold tourism and leisure property and business assets, as well as the structuring and sale of management rights, across a range of tourism asset classes including hotels, motels, resorts, holiday parks, golf courses, pubs and tourist development sites.

Andrew works with clients to tailor marketing campaigns and sales execution in order to create market competition and ensure price maximisation. This work includes regular liaison with our national network of private and institutional hotel investors, owners and development clients.
