Helen Brewis-Levie is a Senior Manager within the CBRE Hotels business line in Asia Pacific and focuses upon Valuations, Strategic Reviews, Feasibility Studies, Cash Flow Analyses and support Capital Markets assignments within the Southeast Asia Region.

Based in Singapore, Helen works with representatives of the CBRE Hotels business line in Asia Pacific, as well as resources within the broader CB Richard Ellis global platform, to provide clients with specialist consulting, valuation and investment related services associated with hospitality related assets and developments. The global Hotels team comprises over 150 industry experts based across key regions.

Helen has worked within the hospitality sector for over 10 years in Asia Pacific, Americas, and EMEA. Her professional experience includes hospitality management, consulting, corporate finance, development, and strategic planning.

Helen has a broad range of experience in relation to the provision of specialist hospitality related services and as a result is well placed to assist clients in relation to asset sourcing, hotel management selection, asset manager selection, market positioning/branding of hospitality assets, consultancy, investment analysis and financing strategies.

Prior to joining CBRE Hotels, Helen spent some time in the Middle East as Director of Development for a global hotel operator. She was responsible for the identification of hotel development opportunities as well as determining the financial and market viability of new projects for the group. Helen primarily focused on development opportunities in Americas, Europe and Middle East.

Helen graduated from the University of Huddersfield in the UK and then worked in operations for the Four Seasons and Dorchester Groups. She then moved in to consultancy working for Ernst & Young, Deloitte and Horwath HTL (Asia Pacific), providing advice to organizations such as Accor, Fairmont Hotels & Resorts, Hyatt International, Oberoi Hotels & Resorts, Rezidor Hotel Group, Raffles Hotels & Resorts and Starwood Asia Pacific.
